LUBS Doctoral Conference 2024

About the Conference

Location: Cloth Hall Court, Quebec Street, Leeds LS1 2HA

The LUBS Doctoral Conference will bring together Postgraduate Researchers (PGRs) from all departments providing them with a platform to present excellent and frontier research.

Our aim is to foster strong research connections among PGRs, Early Career Researchers (ECRs), supervisors, and colleagues in the Business School. PGRs will have the opportunity to develop research presentation and communication skills, receive constructive feedback, and inspire researchers across centres and departments in the School.

The includes a mix of plenary, panel and breakout sessions. The breakout sessions will follow a Pecha Kucha, short presentation, methodology to allow for as many people in our community to participate as possible, and to provide plenty of space for discussion and dialogue.

The Business School has research strengths across many fields and disciplines, with theoretical, methodological and empirical depth that can offer insights and solutions to the most challenging and pressing of issues, be they corporate, policy-related or more societal.
